Writer

Wants to draft posts quickly, organize them, and manage their content through a stable API.

Reader/client

Wants blog data returned in a predictable format and may need generated or summarized text.

Thinks and says

“I need a quick starting draft.” “I want to keep blog content organized.” “I need a shorter version of long text.”

Journey

• Create an account and sign in.

• Call protected profile/blog operations with a token.

• Submit topic/category to generate a post.

• Submit content for summarization.

Research boundary

This empathy map describes the API use cases; no interviews or user research results were provided.
